

Brothers have got talent at catching for camera!

CATCHING big fish is one thing – but landing them to order for the camera is something of an art-form...and one the Purnell brothers seem to be mastering.

Developing quite an audience for his Youtube angling videos, Richard took bro Pete along to Tear Drops to get film of a good winter carp being landed.

And, instead of defying the odds to get one to order, they got two – one apiece to 16-9.

Check out their video under Carp Angler Richard Purnell. It's good...though you may prefer to mute the music!

Richard has also donated his £100 MKAA picture-of-the-year prize to Willen Hospice. Good lad!
